

Scott County Public Health Immunization Clinic

Public Health Immunization Clinics provide immunizations to residents who do not have health insurance coverage for immunizations. These clinics do not replace well-child checkups or annual exams by healthcare providers.

Scott County Public Health participates in the Minnesota Vaccines for Children (MnVFC) program, which provides free vaccines for infants six weeks and older and children through 18 years of age, who do not have insurance coverage for shots. Uninsured or underinsured adults are also eligible to receive immunizations through the Uninsured and Underinsured Adult Vaccine (UUAV) program.
